

RIQUADRI

TRAVELLING FAR AND BACK

We adore ideas that promise to carry us far away. Lively, imaginative ideas that can generate others and create a chain reaction. This is why we design ceramics that can evolve, cross borders and travel far.

We started from the triangle and its solid, unshakable perfection. An essential, elementary shape. Then came the colour and, after that, the movement. Step by step, meticulously dosing every change in tone.

Now these forms have multiplied. Ideas lead to new ideas, expanding precipitately. When we create something unprecedented, it always happens this way: a tremor rocks reality, filling it with new energy.

All our collections are a combination of internal references and transversal constants: a colour that binds the collections together, a size that distinguishes them or the sensation of one surface that recalls another.

We pursue ideas that travel far and then return with even more character than when they left.

RIQUADRI

Here, the rectangular format of the tiles is discreetly emphasized by a graphic frame running around each rectangle, thereby doubling the expressive power of this format and giving the entire wall collection a highly distinctive style.

Five colours, including two variants of white, combine harmoniously to create a distinctively pure effect, while the others offer a range of different colour densities for both the bases and the frames.

Thanks to their similar surface structure, colours and short side lengths, these rectangles combine perfectly with the 3LATI collection.

COLOUR FORM MATTER

The idea we started from has come a long way and crossed many borders. It has developed into a multi collection style project that offers numerous key perspectives. One of these, and perhaps the main one, is colour.

The entire project is founded on white, powder blue, pink, grey and green that bring a sense of harmony to every shape, colour and matter. As its transversal allusions and internal echoes are both subtle and strong enough to match black and yellow ochre, metal and wood.

When combined, these elements create a solid and balanced style code that is so consistent, the range could almost be a single, grand collection. A single, grand collection with transversal echoes and allusions.
